LOCATION

101 The Drive occupies a prominent position on the western side of The Drive, one of Hove's main arterial roads, situated near its northern junction with Old Shoreham Road. The surrounding area is predominantly residential, characterised by attractive tree-lined streets, period housing, and purpose-built apartment blocks, creating a well-established and desirable setting.

The property benefits from excellent access to transport links and local amenities. Hove Station is approximately 750 metres to the south (around a 10-minute walk), offering regular rail services to London Victoria, Gatwick Airport, and key coastal destinations. Hove Recreation Ground is just 150 metres to the north, with the larger Hove Park also within walking distance, providing ample green space for leisure and recreation.

The Drive is well-served by several bus routes and enjoys strong road connectivity via Old Shoreham Road, giving direct access to the A23 and A27 for convenient regional and national travel.

Description

A substantial detached Edwardian building of double-fronted design, set back from the road behind a sweeping private driveway and benefiting from a generous west-facing rear garden. Arranged over lower ground, ground, first and second floors, the property retains a number of original period features while also reflecting various adaptations made throughout its historic use.

Constructed using traditional methods, the building features a combination of pitched clay-tiled roofs and flat asphalt sections. Windows are a mix of uPVC and timber-framed units, with Velux rooflights installed in selected areas. A metal fire escape is situated at the rear, and heating is provided by a gas-fired central system via radiators (not tested).

Internally, the accommodation offers a flexible layout with a variety of room sizes, having previously been used as a nursing home and, more recently, as an independent preparatory school (The Drive Prep School). The layout includes multiple classrooms, staff areas, and ancillary spaces, with former en-suite facilities now repurposed for storage and a decommissioned lift still in situ, both indicative of the building's former care use.

The property presents a rare opportunity for a range of alternative uses, subject to the necessary planning consents.
