TO LET: CHARACTERFUL PERIOD OFFICE IN ICONIC GRADE II LISTED BUILDING

LOCATION

Blenheim House occupies a prime city centre position overlooking the landscaped Old Steine Gardens, ideally situated between the iconic Royal Pavilion and Brighton Palace Pier. The surrounding area features a mix of landmark buildings together with a vibrant blend of office, leisure, residential and cultural uses.

Old Steine is currently undergoing significant public realm improvements as part of the wider regeneration of Brighton's eastern gateway, enhancing connectivity, landscaping and pedestrian spaces. These improvements are expected to further strengthen the area's appeal for businesses and visitors alike while preserving its status as one of Brighton's most historic and prominent locations.

Positioned on the southern stretch of the A23, Old Steine forms a key gateway into the city centre and a major hub for local and regional bus services. The A259 coast road is moments away, while Brighton Station, The Lanes, North Laine and Churchill Square Shopping Centre are all within a short walk.

Description:

Set within a striking Grade II listed building dating back to the 18th century, the second floor of Blenheim House blends historic charm with a versatile, contemporary working environment in the heart of Brighton.

This well-presented space forms part of a prominent six-storey headquarters building, maintained to a high standard throughout. Features include a charming internal fireplace, original wood flooring, a discreet galley kitchen, and a beautifully wood-panelled meeting room, all contributing to a distinctive and inspiring atmosphere.

Ready for immediate occupation, the space is ideally suited for professional office users or boutique wellness and beauty operators seeking a unique and characterful setting.
